Dear NAPS Branch Members,

I am honored and privileged to serve as your National Association of Postal Supervisors (NAPS) National President. It has always been my pledge to represent the best interest of our members and organization with the diligence, commitment, dedication and integrity required of a NAPS leader.

With continued support from my family, I am seeking re-election as your NAPS National President. I am asking for your support and vote at our 2018 National Convention at Mohegan Sun Resort in Uncasville, CT this August.

I don't take the position of NAPS National President lightly. The success of NAPS can only be accomplished through teamwork, constructive dialogue, counsel and guidance amongst the entire Executive Board. As NAPS President, I am open to moving NAPS forward with cutting edge ideas from all levels of the NAPS organization. I am committed to protecting members' rights, promoting common sense legislation to benefit all members, and putting the interests of the membership and the NAPS organization above my own.

The position of NAPS National President has been challenging, but I value those challenges. They have provided me with the experience and knowledge necessary to be a better NAPS President. My first-term as President has also been educational, enlightening and rewarding. But, the true reward is representing NAPS and our members.

The challenges facing NAPS and our members today, tomorrow and in the future requires strong NAPS leadership. I am confident and I hope you agree, as NAPS National President I have the strong leadership skills that will best serve and represent our members and organization for the 2018-2020 NAPS term.

Thank you for your time and consideration in my re-election as your NAPS National President.

All the best,

Brian
